UNTOLD MISERY

RHEUMATISM

C. E. King, Water Valley, Minn., cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla

For five years, I suffered most miserably from rheumatism. I tried every known remedy, but without success.
I was unable to do any work, and spending $100 there, besides doctors' bills; but could obtain only temporary relief.
I was so weak and so tired, so that I weighed only ninety-three pounds; my left arm and leg were drawn out of shape, the muscles being twisted up in knots. I was unable to dress myself, except with assistance, and could only move about by using a cane. I had no appetite, and was assured, by the doctors, that I could not live. The rains, at times, were so bad, that I could scarcely relieve myself of the most agonizing throbs of my limbs. I had my limbs drawn out of shape, and my muscles were drawn up in knots. I was unable to do any work, and spending $100 there, besides doctors' bills, but could obtain only temporary relief.

What is called the new silver boom is simply a plan to turn the Democratic party over to the bankrupt Populists, says the St. Louis Democrat, and the Journal editor is assisting all he can.

The Journal's arguments in favor of cheap money are absurd. He has been reading "Coin," by Harvey, President of the Silver League, and he rehashes the arguments used there.
Not one new original idea is advanced.

The Journal editor may be a good Democrat, but he is not in line with the Democratic administration in its stand for honest money. The Journal seems to adopt all the vicious principles of Democracy and none of the sound ones.

A MORAL WAVE HAS STRUCK THE TOWN of Grand Rapids, and the gamblers and prostitutes have been fired out of the town. Brainerd seems to be exempt from any attacks of this character.

DR. MARTHA RIPLEY says the defeat of the age of consent bill will strengthen the cause of woman suffrage. That legislators will grant nothing to women unless they have the right to vote. Martha is about right. It takes political power to secure political favors.

GROVER CLEVELAND'S stand for honest money and honest financial methods, bids fair to cause a split in the Democratic ranks. In fact, it has already occurred in Kentucky, where Senator Blackburn has championed the cause of cheap money and thrown down the gauntlet to the president.
Let the good work go on.

SPRING has come and the festive cow in Brainerd tramples over the garden and feeds on the lawn of the average citizen with impunity. How long will Brainerd citizens have to stand this cattle nuisance before the council takes a tumble to itself and prohibits their running at large?

Crow Wing county gets $800 out of the state appropriation for grass seed for meadows destroyed by fire, and Cass county gets $308. Settlers of these two counties are most modest in their demands. They should remember the old Biblical injunction, "Ask, and it shall be given you."

The earliest record of a real estate deal is in the Old Testament, where it is said that Abraham bought the field of Ephron for four hundred shekels of silver. Coined money was not in use for we read that Abraham weighed unto Ephron the price. Silver and gold in those days were in the form of ingots or bricks, and the amount needed was cut off and weighed.

Since that day man has made considerable advance, and now has gold and silver coins of various names, as:
Dimes, quarters, dollars, eagles, double eagles, marks, kreutzers, forins, ducaes, Argentine, francs, Bolivians, milreis, onzas, pesos, co-codros, doubloons, escudos, krones, groshes, roubles, lire, sen, yen, incas, gourmes, imperials, pesetas, tal-lens, francs, cents, centavos, or shillings, pence, lepta, reas, skilling, contones, and roubles. The smallest subdivision of value has been effected by the uncivilized African, who uses "cowries" (shells) as currency, seventy of which are equal to one cent of our money.

There are other names for money, as the rhino, the rhino, long green, the stuff, spoolish, simoleons, the rocks whatsoever it may be called, investing it in a journey via the Burlington Route, always brings good returns in speed, safety, comfort, and the satisfaction of knowing that you are on the "Main Traveled Road."

Log Loading Machine.

Wednesday afternoon a party of Minneapolis men went down to the Minnesota Transfer to see a new machine which is designed to make a great improvement over the present methods of loading logs on the cars of a logging railroad. There are two of the machines which go by the name of the Kaimo Log Loader, and they were on their way to Brainerd, Minn., consigned to the Minnesota Logging company for use on the Brainerd & Northern Minnesota railway. The loading mechanism consists mainly of adjustable skids, preferably located on one end of a platform car of special construction, with the power on the other end. These skids are provided with endless chains, on which are suitable dogs for retaining the logs while being carried (not rolled) up to the car. The skids are adjustable to the height of the load, being raised and lowered by a system of worms and gears of sufficient power to handle them even when loaded the heaviest.

The skids that extend to the ground are independent of those on the car, except a hinged connection that allows them to be lifted, when moving the machine from one railway to another.
The lifting is done by the power. The loading skids are on a revolving frame or turn-table. Loading can be done from either side of the machine without turning the car, the driving shafts being so arranged as to connect with the loading mechanism which ever side of the car the loading skids are turned. A drum, or spool, of sufficient capacity to hold 150 feet or more of 1 inch or 1 1/2 inch line or light chain, is located near the power, and furnishes facilities for handling logs that may get foul on the railways; and in connection with a rolling hook, logs that are distant the length of any line that it is practical to handle, may be rolled up to the machine very rapidly. The car on which the machine is located is self-propelling by gear and chain connection with the driving shaft.

The capacity of the machine is limited only by the number of logs that can be fed to it or taken care of at the delivery. As the distance between the dogs on the carrying chains corresponds to the circumference of the sprockets, a dog passes every revolution—ten dogs per minute, or ten logs.
Three men can handle the machine and do good work with ordinary sized logs, but we find that five men make the best crew.

One of these machines has been used for the past two years by the Lyman Lumber company, of Neenah, Wis., and they found that they had such a good thing that they decided to give the rest of the world a chance. Accordingly they organized the American Manufacturing company for the purpose of putting them on the market. An agent of the Minnesota Logging company, in search for log loading devices, saw their machine working and immediately decided that his company needed just such machines, with the result that during the coming summer they will be given a trial on the Brainerd & Northern Minnesota railroad.—Minneapolis Lumberman.

Base Ball Cuttings.
A very funny story is going the rounds about Dad Blandy. Dad has had his hands full the last week or two, not of chickens, as some might suppose, and that, too, in the interest of the Brainerd Base Ball Club.

Frank Howe has, until lately, been looking after the club's interests, but he is going to leave soon to accept a position with the Chicago league team, and as you and I might say, he has handed it over to Blandy, who has been kept on the jump ever since.

There is plenty of work connected with the running of a ball team.
Last Sunday three or four friends of Dad's went over to pay a visit to him, and to see how he was coming out with his work. They espied the genial, old boy, out in the back yard instructing his little son in the art of throwing a curve ball, and rather than spoil the scene by a nearer approach, they hid themselves behind one of his numerous hen coops and awaited developments. Now, my son, they heard in Dad's base ball accent, take your position this side of old Biddy's roost; that's right; hold the ball a little nearer to your waist; don't throw your curves out so far; get a different angle to your snake curve. But, pa, the child is heard to say, I am only a young going in comparison to you.

Why, two weeks ago I didn't know any more about curving a ball than that prize game cock who has chained out in the front yard. Only wait, pa, and the childish voice is near to a sob, until I am one-half year ago, and I will be able to throw the dip, tri-angle, dazzle, zizzag, and the snake curve as well as you do, and with a dry sob sticking in his poor, little throat, he went into the house to put on his sweater. Seeing that Dad was in a thoughtful mood, and knowing his sensitive nature, they stole quietly away, and the only noise heard by them as they were leaving was the

WHERE THEY HAVE FAITH IN MEN.

A Young American's Experiences With German Conditions in Bremen, Bremen.

They were discussing recent peo-larianities. It was a cosmopolitan gathering. There were Englishmen, Germans and Americans. Probably the most cosmopolitan of the crowd was the American, a New Yorker, who had lived many years abroad and acquired that indefinable air of the man of the world, which can only be acquired by mingling with people of different nationalities. He had visited every nook and cranny in Europe which Bader had not had in mentioned. A scar across his nose to the corner of his eye told the story of a duel at a German university, fought viciously against a man who had insulted his country.

He was the leader in the discussion, which took place in a well known clubhouse, as his companions felt that he was their superior.

"There are no people in the world," said the American, replying to a remark of the Englishman. "I could tell you a number of instances to prove this, but I shall limit myself to three. The first begins at Heidelberg. I had been at the university for several semesters when the time came for my father's examination. It was the middle of the summer. My father had always been a good allowance, and I had saved as much as possible to pay my examination fees, not wishing to tell him that I was to go up for my examination, fearing that I would not pass.

He had written me, however, that he would meet me in Bremen about the middle of August, and would therefore not send me so much money as usual, as it would be unnecessary.
I managed to get through all right, with a little money left, and started for Berlin to await a telegram summoning me to Bremen in a few days.
But the days became weeks, and when the telegram came I had only 20 marks left. After purchasing my ticket I arrived in Bremen with 4 marks, about $1. I went to the best hotel, where we had planned to meet, took a room and dined.

While at table a telegram was brought to me, dated Brussels, reading: "Meet me at Amsterdam, naming hotel. You can imagine my feelings. I had never been in Bremen. I had never seen the hotel proprietor. My father was then on his way to Amsterdam, and I had 4 marks, which I already owed to the hotel man. But I went to him with a bold face.

"Sir," I said, "I have been a student at a German university and just passed my examination. I expected to meet my father here—I got no further. The man interrupted me by asking me how much money I needed. Would 100 marks do?
I took 50, and the man, who had never even heard of me, declined to take a receipt for it or to return any of my property for security. Well, I met my father all right, thanks to the trusting hotel man, and when I told my father, who is a banker, the story he wished to travel to Bremen to see the proprietor. Of course he got his money the next day, as I did not wish to destroy such faith in human nature even by an honest day.

"As another time, when I was a student at the University of Berlin, I entered a restaurant where I had never been. I ordered a fine dinner, with wine. When I went to pay, I found, to my embarrassment, that I had not a cent with me, having changed my clothes. I offered to leave my watch till I returned, but what was my surprise when the waiter said, opening his pocketbook:
'Not at all, sir. May I have the honor to lend you something until you have time to return?' I thanked him, of course, and gave him a good fee when I paid him.

"And the instance was when I first arrived in Germany. I had spent all my change, and arriving in Co-logne, not knowing a soul in the country, I was obliged to have my draft cashed. The draft was on Leipzig. I entered an express company's office and presented my draft, having no one to identify it. I was told to go on my way to Weimar. The manager gazed at me and said: 'Well, sir, you look honest. I shall risk half of this draft.' He paid me $250. I went on to Weimar. A few days later, I received the rest of the money, about 60 cents having been charged for the trouble.

No one in the company had had such experiences, and they voted the Germans, after the story, an honest nation.—New York Tribune.

When the Late Czar Was a Boy.
While Alexander III of Russia was still only the young heir to the throne he was called to pass in review, by his father's side, a number of the high dignitaries of the empire. As official after termination of names in "berg" betrayed their origin. At last Alexander III pronounced a purely Russian name in "off." He was surprised to hear a sigh of relief from his son, who remarked audibly, "There's one, at any rate."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Wicks—Yes, so do I. By the way,

AN AMERICAN WRITER REVEALS SOME OF THE INSIDE WORKINGS OF OUR NATIONAL LIFE.

Yankee ways of thinking and doing are revealed by an American significant figure in the Atlantic and addressed to an English friend. He says that some of the English folk who are friends of the United States are somewhat friends of misunderstanding us about as badly as the old Tories.

You seem to think the United States are peopled by a set of philosophical radicals, whose true place is on the Liberal benches behind John Morley. Your writers of this school know we are a separate nation, but they are persuaded that it is a nation of philosophers, right out of Plato or Sir Thomas More.

Mr. Howells has a charming story where a girl from the practical but still visionary "west" thinks Boston is peopled with reformers, who revolve around the abolitionists and bright stars. She is amazed to hear that an agreeable young gentleman of Boston who never met these people in society, and as far as he had heard of them looked upon them as dangerous eccentrics. Now, some of your highly educated thinkers seem to regard the average American as largely occupied with reading or writing treatises on the philosophy of government, coming down in a long catena from Jefferson, and as much concerned with conventions, and reforms. My friend, we did that once for all when we started, and though we do not make the impression talked of more than they used to be 20 years ago, we are in the mass anything but a set of theorizing radicals. We are very conservative, very humdrum, much attached to existing machinery, especially in politics, and with a great distrust of utopian and ideal schemes. Custom is almost as much a tyrant with us as in our Indian dominions. Eager as we are for novelties in dress and buildings, we are hard to stir from our accepted ways of letting other people be governed, even when these are tangled and muddy. Our philosophers complain that their speculations do not make the impression they ought on most of their fellow citizens, who are engaged in the more work of living. I suspect England is a good deal nearer female suffrage than we are.

When Professor Bryce was last here, he rushed off from all his friends to see what he considered the intensely interesting spectacle of a constitutional convention in the state of Kentucky, an institution to which he had given much space in his valuable book. I do not believe that at this hour 20 members of congress outside Kentucky know whether the results of that convention were adopted or not. We can get half as big a vote again on the pettiest election when the choice is between persons as when the people solemnly vote "yes" or "no" on a question of organic law.

No, my old friend, we are not English provincials; we are not half civilized provincials; we are not utopian radicals, above all, we are not naughty boys and silly girls; we are not anything that you have decided we must be. There is one liberty we claim as our English birthright—the liberty of being illogical when we please and succeeding or failing according to our own ideas of working out our own problems, whether they are yours or not.

Novel Use For Women's Jaws.
Among the Eskimo a novel use has been found for woman's jaw. Says Mrs. Peary in her book, "My Arctic Journey." "The native method of treating the skins of all animals intended for clothing is first to rid them of as much of the fat as can be got off by scraping with a knife.
Then they are stretched tight as possible and allowed to become perfectly dry. After this they are taken by the women and chewed and sucked all over in order to get as much of the grease out as possible. Then they are again dried and scraped with a dull implement, so as to break the fibers, making the skins pliable.
Chewing the skin is very hard on the women, and all of it is done by hand. They chew and suck the skin two days and nights, and are obliged to rest their jaws every other day."

Language of Palestine.
As regards the languages spoken in Palestine in the time of Christ, much that is of high importance has resulted from recent exploration. A dedication to Herod was written both in Aramaic and in Greek, and there are a great many Greek texts of this age in all parts of the country, which show that the old Caramanite religious had not yet died out, but were mingled with Greek mythology, so that the names of native and of Greek deities stand side by side. The region where the Greeks were most numerous was apparently Decapolis, east of the sea of Galilee, and it seems to me probable that the people of Galilee, who kept swine, were Greeks, for the pig was regarded as an unclean animal by the Pharisees and other natives as well as by the Jews. It has often been disputed whether the gospels were originally written in Greek or in Aramaic, but it has now been rendered certain by exploration that Greek was very widely used in Palestine at this time, and that it was understood by the Jews as well as by others. We have recovered the stone, written in Greek, which warned the gentiles not to enter the inner court of the temple and have found early Jewish bone boxes on Olivet inscribed in Greek.—Contemporary Review.

A PARABLE.

Summer is gone; the butterflies are dead;
The little birds fly southward on old No longer eat and make widely spread Their boughs of emerald 'neath the shining sun.

The roses, too, are dead—woe and alas!
"So sweet a season and so soon to pass!" Yet look again, sweet maid, and sigh no more.
With red and gold the boughs of autumn shine.

Blossom and crimson deck the tree tops still And gayly paint the tendrils of the vine.
The brown sparrow twitter, chirp and fly,
And glorious sunsets light the western sky.

All is not over because summer's dead!
'Tis but a little while ere back again Will come the blithesome season and the green And herald the sweet quest with all her train.

For a bud blossoms yet shall climb and creep Where the dead roses lie in dreamless sleep.

The judicial system of England is gravelly defective in the respect that it does not require cases like that of oscar Wilde to be tried behind closed doors and kept out of the newspapers.

Umra Khan has fled and the country has submitted. Truly, the British Chitral expedition has swatted the Swati hip and thigh.

One reason why the Monroe doctrine holds good is that colonies governed from Europe are either taken into haustration or reduced to starvation being cut off from natural trade relations. For particulars look at Cuba and Newfoundland.

An investigation of the strawberry quart holds in Washington shows that it holds just one pint and a half of beans. The consumer of the early strawberry may think this remarkable shrinkage is a loss, but he forgets the sugar he saves.

The statement is now made that the Russian thistle in its native country is cut when green and dried for forage and fuel during the winter. This personable plant has failed here as an in-extensible basis for demanding appropriations, and some other work will probably be found for it.

The new Spanish premier, Senor

Canovas, is said to be the honestest and the most sincere senator in Madrid. As the senator was the champanion of the abolition of slavery in Spain and its dependencies, he will not be judged hastily in this country.

It is reported that even the moon observed Good Friday by presenting the extraordinary celestial phenomen of a cross upon its face at midnight Thursday, just upon the dawning of Good Friday. Reports of this spectacle come from so many directions as to be considered as that this was not a lunar illusion.

The great plains of the Orinoco are so level that the motion of their streams can hardly be detected over an area of 200,000 square miles. The more the possibilities of that region are looked into the more clearly it appears that England is playing for a high stake in her aggressive stand with Venezuela.

Mrs. Henry Meurer of 2004 Gough street, Baltimore, is the mother of three sets of twins. She is 24 years of age, her twentieth birthday falling on the tenth of next July. Mrs.

Meurer has married a little over six years. The two latest additions to her family were born on March 3. of the six children two are girls and four are boys.

Gov. Morton of New York has just signed a bill incorporating a board to be called "Trustees of Scenic and Historic Places and Objects," with authority to acquire and hold real and personal estate not exceeding $100,000 in value. The board includes some of the best known citizens of the state, and it is probable that their intelligent work will lead to the creation of a similar body in other states.

The world's gold production last year, with all the returns in, stands at $170,000,000, an increase of $200,- 000,000 over 1893, and of $600,000,000 over the average between 1885 and 1890. More than a fourth of the gold mined in the world in 1894 is credited to the United States. This country appears to have a winning hand no matter what Europe does in regard to standards.

Baltimore has selected Clifton Park as the site of its centennial exposition to be held in 1897. The citizens are taking great interest in the exhibition which last six months and includes large number of novel and striking features. Baltimore is one of the cities that carries through what it in-doctrines in handsome style, and no doubt in solid facts rather than noise and the manipulations of fiction.

The corporation of Trinity Church

New York has been sharply criticised lately for the condition of its tenement houses, and it finds the problem so difficult that it will confine its building operations hereafter to business structures. The City of Birmingham, England, told of its slums by tearing them down and improving the property with wide streets for business purposes.

A New York architect says there is practically no limit to the height of modern buildings except the convenience of the tenants, but he thinks thirty-five stories is about as many could be ventured on at present.

The steel construction is now used, copied from truss bridges, is pronounced wonderfully simple, strong, comparatively cheap and rapid, and does not inferior to the old style of construction than any other form of building.

Statutes of Monroe are likely to be more numerous in South America than in that president's native country. One is going up at Rio Janeiro and another of heroic size, cut out of Venezuelan marble, is to be erected in the public square of Caracas. The same emperor expresses the American idea that government by Europe on this side of the Atlantic is unacceptable. It is good doctrine, and will grow stronger as time passes.

A set of hanging corner shelves that hold bric-a-brac in a dainty border of glass joined and suspended by chains. The shelves, three in number, are triangular in shape. The bottom shelf is the largest, and the other two each somewhat smaller. They are cut at the corners, and placed at each end and in the center of the angle that fits into the corner of the table. The gilt chains at each end and in the middle of the back corner support the shelves. At the ends of each shelf boxes of satin ribbon are tied about the chain to keep it from slipping, and also for ornament. Although these shelves are very pretty, a more secure resting place for ornaornaments, a plate-glass mirror over the upper shelf, and some of the across the front, are sometimes sold for $2.50 or $3. They are pretty when hung over a cheap mantel, but have no ornamental value. They are furnishings of the Stratton House to E. L. Chamberlain, who has run the mill boarding house for over a year past, and Mr. Chamberlain has already taken possession. He is a competent hotel man and will undoubtedly make the Stratton House a more popular hostelry than ever before.

About six o'clock on Monday morning fire was discovered in the rear end of the second story of the Stratton Hotel and it gained considerable headway before the department was called out. The flames, however, soon under control, but not until damages had been inflicted to the amount of at least $1,000.

The Northern Pacific will set a crew of men at work tomorrow at Deerwood hill and the track will be lowered some twelve or fifteen feet.
The job is a big one but the advantages to be obtained are such as to warrant the work. "Deerwood hill" will no longer be a terror to the railroad boys after the job is completed.

Among the names of the deputy game wardens recently appointed by the state fish and game commission is that of William Paine Jr., of Brainerd, who will look after the violators of the law in this vicinity at a salary of $50 per month and expenses. He has held this position for several years, during which time he has become a terror to breakers of the law.

Rev. Canon Pentreath, of Winnipeg, who has been extended a call by St.
Paul's church, of this city, will arrive here today to look the ground over, with a view of accepting the same.
He will conduct services at St. Paul's church next Sunday. He will be pleased to meet the officers and members of the church and the members of the various societies of the church at the Guild rooms on Saturday afternoon, between 2 and 4 o'clock.

A party of wheelmen, composed of Judge Alderman, City Clerk Farrar, City Attorney McCannahan, J. R.
Smith, and W. A. M. Johnston, are contemplating a trip on their wheels in a short time that will occupy ten days or two weeks. They intend to go from here to Detroit, thence to White Earth, thence to Leech Lake, and from there home. May 11th has been decided on as the day for starting.

The Brainerd Gun Club will enjoy the first shoot of the season tomorrow (Saturday) morning, although it will be an informal affair. The electric appliance will not be used as the committee in charge have not been able to complete the same but everything else is in position. The regular shoots will take place on Wednesday mornings and will probably begin with the coming week. The club now has the finest grounds in the northwest.

Jennie Winters and Mary Tift, were arrested on Wednesday, on complaint of David Powerless, a lumberman, charged with grand larceny.
Powerless says he was spending the night at the house in which the girls hold forth, when the Winters girls induced him to entrust her with $75 of cold cash, which she refuses to return, hence he charges her with stealing that amount. The case came on for a hearing this morning and the girls were discharged.

Rumors are afloat and items appear in the daily papers every day or two that the Great Northern will build the Fosston branch to Sandstone Lake, but they are persistently denied by the company's officials. The Duluth Herald, however, says "the rumors have been affirmed by the letting of contracts to Foley Bros., of St. Cloud, for fifty miles of road, and the subcontractors are now putting up their camps, and will start the work next Monday at Sandstone."

We are informed that Rev. Geo. E.
Rowe, of the Baptist church, will leave Brainerd shortly for other fields of labor. It is said he has received several calls, one from a Boston church and one from Grand Rapids, Mich., and one or two others from churches in the east somewhere, the names of which we have not learned. We regret to see Bro. Rowe leave us, as he has relieved the tediousness of an otherwise uneventful winter for all the boys. We hope he will be successful in his new field.

The work of fitting up the Brainerd Lumber Co.'s mill and yard with electric lights is being pushed rapidly, Mr. Gray, of Minneapolis, having the work in charge. He has five men working with him and expects to have everything in order in a week. The building will be lighted by incandescent lights, while 40 arc lights will transform night into day in the lumber yard, and 20 arc lights will be put on the landing across the river.

A new Dining Car Service between Chicago and Buffalo via the Nickel Plate Road has recently been placed at the disposal of the traveling public, which will enable patrons of this favorite low rate line to obtain all meals on trains when traveling on through trains between Chicago, New York and Boston. For reservation of Sleeping Car space and further information see your local ticket agent or address J. Y. Calahan, General Agent,

In the Brainerd Tribune of Saturday we noticed the announcement that Win Meguire would conduct the meeting at the Y. M. C. A., on Sunday afternoon. Win Meguire was formerly a resident of Morrison county and had somewhat of a reputation as a pugilist. His last fight was with Sheehy in 1893, in this city at which time his ankle was dislocated.
He said at that time he had entered the ring for the last time and he is keeping his word. Win Meguire was always too much of a gentleman to be a prize fighter.—Transcript.

Improvements at the mill of the Brainerd Lumber company are being pushed rapidly and the mill will be ready to run before the first of May, the date that has been set for the finishing. The three hundred trucks that are to be used in the yards have arrived from Duluth and will be ready to use in moving lumber from the mill to the piling ground when the mill starts. For the first week the mill will run with only the day crew.
After that the all day run will be inaugurated. The mill is more fortunately situated than the mills farther down the river, in that it has at hand in the lake a sufficient number of logs to keep it running during the season.
The company is already prepared to do business as it recently secured a stock of 1,500,000 feet of lumber that was the property of the Gull River Lumber company.—Lumberman.

Assaulted By Toughs.
Peter Kiley, who lives near the Northern Mill, was assaulted by four men on Tuesday evening about 10 o'clock while returning home from town. The assault was committed not far from Mr. Kiley's home, after he left the street car. He says the men grabbed him, when he knocked one down, and in turn was knocked down by another. He was then seized by his assailants but after a struggle he released himself and ran away from them. In the struggle he was stabbed in the abdomen quite seriously, the cut being so long and deep that the intestines protruded. Dr. Camp was called and he had Mr. Kiley removed to the hospital where he is now doing nicely. He did not know who it was that assaulted him but says that he thinks they mistook him for someone else. It has not been discovered who his assailants are.

LATER—Mr. Kiley's wounds were more serious than at first supposed, and he died today as a result of them.

New Dining Car Service.
It is a pleasure to note the addition of another important feature to the already competent train service of the Nickel Plate Road. The Dining Car service of this popular low rate line has recently been augmented, by which dinner will be served on train No. 6, leaving Chicago at 2 p. m. daily, and leaving Chicago daily at 9:20 p. m., with direct connections for New York and Boston. Breakfast and dinner will be served on train No. 5, arriving in Chicago at 9:35 p. m. from New York and Boston.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

DEATHS.

Joseph Carr died at the residence of Mrs. Jas. Cullen, in East Brainerd, on Sunday, April 21st, of heart failure, aged 40 years. Deceased was a single man, and has lived in this city for several years, being employed at the N. P. foundry as a moulder. His remains were shipped to the home of his people at Bridgeport, Conn.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Westfall died on Wednesday. Services were conducted at the grave by Rev. Edmonds.

Mrs. Laura E. Reed, wife of Chas.
A. Reed, who lives at No. 40, Tenth street north, died on Tuesday, April 23rd, of typhoid fever, aged 34 years.
The funeral services occurred yesterday at the residence of deceased, Rev.
Geo. E. Rowe officiating. Deceased leaves a son, besides her husband, to mourn her loss.

A railroad employe by the name of Ernest Bouar, died at the Sanitarium on Wednesday, from an abscess of the liver, aged 21 years. The remains were shipped to Sank Center, Minn., for burial.

The remains of Mrs. Anna Wiegand, who has made her home for several years past with her son, George Wiegand, on a farm some miles south of this city, arrived here yesterday from New York City, where the unfortunate lady died while on her way to her childhood's home in Germany.
Deceased left here on the 9th inst., when she was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital for treatment, where she died on the 19th inst., of fatty degeneration of the heart, aged 50 years.
Her remains were met here by her son, and taken to the East Brainerd German Lutheran church, where funeral services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. S. Stapp.

Mack Donaldson, died Wednesday April 17th, of consumption, at the home of his mother on the farm in Oak Lawn township. Rev. Edmonds, of this city, conducted the funeral services, and deceased was buried beside his father on the old place.

Mysteriously Disappeared.
Peter Olson, a well known Scandinavian citizen of this city, who lives on Pine street, between Sixth and Seventh, mysteriously disappeared on Saturday evening last, and no clue to his whereabouts has since been discovered. He had been suffering for some time with boils on his arm, and was not feeling well otherwise that evening, having a bad cold and being feverish, we are informed, so he told his wife about 7 o'clock that he was going to the Sanitarium to consult the doctors. He was met by Dr.
Kirkwood on the west end of the wagon bridge, and the Doctor made an appointment with him for the following day at 9 o'clock, when the Doctor came on over to town, while Mr. Olson went west towards the Sanitarium. That was the last seen of him. He did not go to the Sanitarium, however. As Mr. Olson is a man of good habits and is never out nights, his wife became very much alarmed at his absence the following morning, and search was instituted in all directions. The woods were scoured for miles around, and the river was dragged all day Monday and Monday night, as a great many thought he had jumped or fallen into the river, but no trace of him could be found. A hat was found under the railroad bridge on Sunday evening, but Mrs. Olson said it was not her husband's hat, as he wore a new one, and this was old and dilapidated.
Mrs. Olson is nearly distracted at her husband's disappearance, as she can imagine no reason for his doing so.
His family relations have been happy and he was a frugal, sober, industrious man, and although it has been ascertained that he owes considerable about town, his friends refuse to believe he has forsaken his home and family because of that. It is thought, rather, that he has become temporarily deranged, and wandered away in the woods and become lost, or as fallen or jumped into the river and lost his life. It is hoped that he is alive and will be found shortly.

Lumberman's Exchange Hotel Leased.

County Commissioner John Babar has leased his hotel property, the Lumberman's Exchange, to Ed. Mc-Donald, of Little Falls, who will take charge May 1st. Mr. Babar is just recovering from a long spell of sickness and feels the need of rest, hence he determined to retire from the active management of the hotel. Concerning the new proprietor the Little Falls Transcript says:

Ed. McDonald has returned from Brainerd, and informs us that on May 1st he will take charge of the Lum-berman's Exchange hotel at Brainerd, formerly run by John Babar. Since selling his saloon here some weeks ago Mr. McDonald has been on the lookout for a location, and finally made a deal with Mr. Babar on Tuesday. The hotel has always enjoyed a good business and Mr. McDonald will certainly conduct it to the satisfaction of his patrons.

sprinkling commences May 1st, and extends to October 1st. To those purpose, but those using it must pay for it. Those violating the rules must

They intend to go from here to Detroit, thence to White Earth, thence to Leech Lake, and from there home. May 11th has been decided on as the day for starting.

The Brainerd Gun Club will enjoy the first shoot of the season tomorrow (Saturday) morning, although it will be an informal affair. The electric appliance will not be used as the committee in charge have not been able to complete the same but everything else is in position. The regular shoots will take place on Wednesday morning, and will probably begin with the coming week. The club now has the finest grounds in the northwest.

Jennie Winters and Mary Tift, were arrested on Wednesday, on complaint of David Powerlean, a lumberman, charged with grand larceny. Powerlean says he was spending the night at the house in which the girls held forth, when the Winters girl induced him to entrust her with $75 of cold cash, which she refused to return, hence he charges her with stealing that amount. The case came on for a hearing this morning and the girls were discharged.

Rumors are afloat and items appear in the daily papers every day or two that the Great Northern will build the Fosston branch to Sandstone Lake, but they are persistently denied by the company's officials. The Duluth Herald, however, says "the rumors have been affirmed by the letting of contracts to Foley Bros., of St. Cloud, for fifty miles of road, and the sub-contractors are now putting up their camps, and will start the work next Monday at Sandstone."

We are informed that Rev. Geo. E. Rowe, of the Baptist church, will leave Brainerd shortly for other fields of labor. It is said he has received several calls, one from a Boston church and one from Grand Rapids, Mich., and one or two others from churches in the east somewhere, the names of which we have not learned. We regret to see Bro. Rowe leave us, as he has relieved the tediousness of an otherwise uneventful winter for all the boys. We hope he will be successful in his new field.

The work of fitting up the Brainerd Lumber Co.'s mill and yard with electric lights is being pushed rapidly, Mr. Gray, of Minneapolis, having the work in charge. He has five men working with him and expects to have everything in order in a week. The building will be lighted by incandescent lights, while 40 arc lights will transform night into day in the lumber yard, and 20 arc lights will be put on the landing across the river.

A new Dining Car Service between Chicago and Buffalo via the Nickel Plate Road has recently been placed at the disposal of the traveling public, which will enable patrons of this favorite low rate line to obtain all meals on trains when traveling on through trains between Chicago, New York and Boston. For reservation of Sleeping Car space and further information see your local ticket agent or address J. Y. Calahan, General Agent, Chicago.

In the Brainerd Tribune of Saturday we noticed the announcement that Win McGuire would conduct the meeting at the Y. M. C. A., on Sunday afternoon. Win McGuire was formerly a resident of Morrison county and had somewhat of a reputation as a pugilist. His last fight was with Shesbey in 1893, in this city at which time his ankle was dislocated. He said at that time he had entered the ring for the last time and he is keeping his word. Win McGuire was always too much of a gentleman to be a prize fighter.—Transcript.

Improvements at the mill of the Brainerd Lumber company are being pushed rapidly and the mill will be ready to run before the first of May, the date that has been set for the finishing. The three hundred trucks that are to be used in the yard have arrived from Duluth and will be ready to use in moving lumber from the mill to the piling ground when the mill starts. For the first week the mill will run with only the day crew. After that the all day run will be inaugurated. The mill is more fortunately situated than the mills farther down the river, in that it has at hand in the lake a sufficient number of logs to keep it running during the season. The company is already prepared to do business as it recently secured a stock of 1,500,000 feet of lumber that was the property of the Gull River Lumber company.—Lumberman.

Peter Kiley, who lives near the Northern Mill, was assaulted by four men on Tuesday evening about 10 o'clock while returning home from town. The assault was committed not far from Mr. Kiley's home, after he left the street car. He says the men grabbed him, when he knocked one down, and in turn was knocked down by another. He was then seized by his assailants and after a struggle he released himself and ran away from them. In the struggle he was stabbed in the abdomen quite seriously, the cut being so long and deep that the intestines protruded. Dr. Camp was called and he had Mr. Kiley removed to the hospital where he is now doing nicely. He did not know who it was that assaulted him but says that he thinks they mistook him for someone else. It has not been discovered who his assailants are.

LATY—Mr. Kiley's wounds were more serious than at first supposed, and he died today as a result of them.

New Dining Car Service.

It is a pleasure to note the addition of another important feature to the already competent train service of the Nickel Plate Road. The Dining Car service of this popular low rate line has recently been augmented, by which dinner will be served on train No. 6, leaving Chicago at 2 p. m. daily, and breakfast and dinner on train No. 2 leaving Chicago daily at 9:20 p. m. with direct connections for New York and Boston. Breakfast and dinner will be served on train No. 5, arriving in Chicago at 9:35 p. m. from New York and Boston.

DEATHS.

Joseph Carr died at the residence of Mrs. Jas. Cullen, in East Brainerd, on Sunday, April 21st, of heart failure, aged 40 years. Deceased was a single man, and has lived in this city for several years, being employed at the N. P. foundry as a moulder. His remains were shipped to the home of his people at Bridgeport, Conn.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Westfall died on Wednesday. Services were conducted at the grave by Rev. Edmunds.

Mrs. Laura E. Reed, wife of Chas. A. Reed, who lives at No. 40, Tenth street north, died on Tuesday, April 23rd, of typhoid fever, aged 34 years. The funeral services occurred yesterday at the residence of deceased, Rev. Geo. E. Rowe officiating. Deceased leaves a son, besides her husband, to mourn her loss.

A railroad employe by the name of Ernest Bousar, died at the Sanitarium on Wednesday, from an abscess of the liver, aged 21 years. The remains were shipped to Sauk Center, Minn., for burial.

The remains of Mrs. Anna Wiegand, who has made her home for several years past with her son, George Wiegand, on a farm some miles south of this city, arrived here yesterday from New York City, where the unfortunate lady died while on her way to her childhood's home in Germany. Deceased left here on the 9th inst., but was taken sick in New York, when she was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital for treatment, where she died on the 19th inst., of fatty degeneration of the heart, aged 50 years. Her remains were met here by her son, and taken to the East Brainerd German Lutheran church, where funeral services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. S. Stapf.

Mack Donaldson, died Wednesday April 17th, of consumption, at the home of his mother on the farm in Oak Lawn township. Rev. Edmunds, of this city, conducted the funeral services, and deceased was buried beside his father on the old place.

Mysteriously Disappeared.

Peter Olson, a well known Scandinavian citizen of this city, who lives on Pine street, between Sixth and Seventh, mysteriously disappeared on Saturday evening last, and no clue to his whereabouts has since been discovered. He had been suffering for some time with boils on his arm, and was not feeling well otherwise that evening, having a bad cold and being feverish, we are informed, so he took about 7 o'clock that he was going to the Sanitarium to consult the doctors. He was met by Dr. Kirkwood on the west end of the wagon bridge, and the Doctor made an appointment with him for the following day at 9 o'clock, when the Doctor came on over to town, while Mr. Olson went west towards the Sanitarium. That was the last seen of him. He did not go to the Sanitarium, however. As Mr. Olson is a man of good habits and is never out of his home, and his wife became very much alarmed at his absence the following morning, and search was instituted in all directions. The woods were scoured for miles around, and the river was dragged all day Monday and Monday night, as a great many thought he had jumped or fallen into the river, but no trace of him could be found. A hat was found under the railroad bridge on Sunday evening, but Mrs. Olson said it was not her husband's hat, as he wore a new one, and this was old and dilapidated. Mrs. Olson is nearly distracted at her husband's disappearance, as she can imagine no reason for his doing so. His family relations have been happy and he was a frugal, sober, industrious man, and although it has been ascertained that he owes considerable about town, his friends refuse to believe he has forsaken his home and family because of that. It is thought, rather, that he has become temporarily deranged, and wandered away in the woods and become lost, or as fallen or jumped into the river and lost his life. It is hoped that he is alive and will be found shortly.

County Commissioner John Bubar has leased his hotel property, the Lumberman's Exchange, to Ed. McDonald, of Little Falls, who will take charge May 1st. Mr. Bubar is just recovering from a long spell of sickness and feels the need of rest, hence he determined to retire from the active management of the hotel. Concerning the new proprietor the Little Falls Transcript says:

Ed. McDonald has returned from Brainerd, and informs us that on May 1st he will take charge of the Lumberman's Exchange hotel at Brainerd, formerly run by John Bubar. Since selling his saloon here some weeks ago Mr. McDonald has been on the lookout for a location, and finally made a deal with Mr. Bubar on Tuesday. The hotel has always enjoyed a good business and Mr. McDonald will certainly conduct it to the satisfaction of his patrons.

Rumors are afloat and items appear in the daily papers every day or two that the Great Northern will build the Fosston branch to Sandstone Lake, but they are persistently denied by the company's officials. Improvements at the mill of the Brainerd Lumber company are being pushed rapidly and the mill will be ready to run before the first of May, the date that has been set for the finishing. The mill is more fortunately situated than the mills farther down the river, in that it has at hand in the lake a sufficient number of logs to keep it running during the season. The company is already prepared to do business as it recently secured a stock of 1,500,000 feet of lumber that was the property of the Gull River Lumber company. —Lumberman.

The remains of Mrs. Anna Wiegand, who has made her home for several years past with her son, George Wiegand, on a farm some miles south of this city, arrived here yesterday from New York City, where the unfortunate lady died while on her way to her childhood's home in Germany. Deceased left here on the 9th inst., but was taken sick in New York, when she was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital for treatment, where she died on the 19th inst., of fatty degeneration of the heart, aged 50 years. Her remains were met here by her son, and taken to the East Brainerd German Lutheran church, where funeral services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. S. Staff.

Mysteriously Disappeared.
Peter Olson, a well known Scandinavian citizen of this city, who lives on Pine street, between Sixth and Seventh, mysteriously disappeared on Saturday evening last, and no clue to his whereabouts has since been discovered. He had been suffering for some time with boils on his arm, and was not feeling well otherwise that evening, having a bad cold and being feverish, we are informed, so he told his wife about 7 o'clock that he was going to the Sanitarium to consult the doctors. He was met by Dr. Kirkwood on the west end of the wagon bridge, and the Doctor made an appointment with him for the following day at 9 o'clock, when the Doctor came on over to town, while Mr. Olson went west towards the Sanitarium. That was the last seen of him. He did not go to the Sanitarium, however. As Mr. Olson is a man of good habits and is never out nights, his wife became very much alarmed at his absence the following morning, and search was instituted in all directions. The woods were scoured for miles around, and the river was dragged all day Monday and Monday night, as a great many thought he had jumped or fallen into the river, but no trace of him could be found. A hat was found under the railroad bridge on Sunday evening, but Mrs. Olson said it was not her husband's hat, as he wore a new one, and this was old and dilapidated. Mrs. Olson is nearly distracted at her husband's disappearance, as she can imagine no reason for his doing so. His family relations have been happy and he was a frugal, sober, industrious man, and although it has been ascertained that he owes considerable about town, his friends refuse to believe he has forsaken his home and family because of that. It is thought, rather, that he has become temporarily deranged, and wandered away in the woods and become lost, or as fallen or jumped into the river and lost his life. It is hoped that he is alive and will be found shortly.

County Commissioner John Bubar has leased his hotel property, the Lumberman's Exchange, to Ed. McDonald, of Little Falls, who will take charge May 1st. Mr. Bubar is just recovering from a long spell of sickness and feels the need of rest, hence he determined to retire from the active management of the hotel. Concerning the new proprietor the Little Falls Transcript says:
Ed. McDonald has returned from Brainerd, and informs us that on May 1st he will take charge of the Lumberman's Exchange hotel at Brainerd, formerly run by John Bubar. Since selling his saloon here some weeks ago Mr. McDonald has been on the lookout for a location, and finally made a deal with Mr. Bubar on Tuesday. The hotel has always enjoyed a good business and Mr. McDonald will certainly conduct it to the satisfaction of his patrons.
